Date Program Tables are updated: 3/6/2025

Postdoctoral Program Admissions

Briefly describe in narrative form important information to assist potential applicants in assessing their likely fit with your program. This description must be consistent with the program's policies on resident selection and practicum and academic preparation requirements:
Well qualified candidates for our postdoctoral positions will demonstrate strong entry-level skills in psychological intervention, crisis assessment and management, psychological assessment, research skills, outreach delivery and consultation experience, as well as basic computer skills, and excellent communication and written skills. In addition we look for individuals who have a passion for working with diverse communities within a multiculturally informed and competent framework and who have not only counseling center experience, but across other clinical settings as well. Each application is looked at as a whole, with attention given to each applicant's training and professional goals. Personal characteristics which are necessary to thrive in a fast past, busy, work environment of a large college counseling center are a good fit. Due to our decentralized model, candidates should be prepared to navigate across campus. Since we are committed to ensuring diversity among our training cohort, consideration is given for various diversity factors including theoretical orientations program and geographical variation, age, racial and ethnic backgrounds, abilities, life experiences and sexual orientations. We encourage the indication of this in the application
Describe any other required minimum criteria used to screen applicants:
